“My parents exemplified the values of tzedakah, pursuit of justice, love of learning and the arts, respect for all people, and delight in the diversity of Jewish practice and diasporic Jewish life. I made my legacy gift in honor of my parents, and in gratitude for the opportunity to put the values I inherited into action.” - Rani Cochran

“As the daughter of a Holocaust survivor, the continuity of Judaism is extremely personal to me. Our continuation depends on welcoming families of many kinds, serving their religious needs, and keeping them connected to their Judaism through their communities. I am making my legacy gifts to help create and sustain a strong Jewish community that transcends denominations and affiliations.”

- Debra Schoenberg

“The Jewish soul is rooted in Israel. Through our legacy gifts, we are supporting organizations that counter attempts to delegitimize Israel, and that work to bring about understanding and reconciliation between our Arab neighbors and ourselves.” - Malka Weitman and Eric Strauss

What will your legacy be?

Jewish tradition teaches that one of our key responsibilities is to make the world a better place for future generations. These families and individuals have committed to legacies that will support Jewish life for generations to come. Your legacy gift of any size will ensure that your family's values live on in perpetuity.

How can I create a Jewish legacy?

You can remember the organizations you cherish with a gift in your will, trust, retirement plan, or life insurance policy. To learn more, contact a participating organization or Steve Brown at 510.809.4915 or steve@jfed.org

Sample language for your will or trust

To [organization], tax payer identification number _____, I give [____% of the remainder of my estate / the sum of $_____].

You can also make a legacy gift through a beneficiary designation in your retirement plan or life insurance policy.

Before making any legacy giving decisions, we always recommend you consult with your financial or estate planning professional.

Create a Jewish Legacy is a partnership of nineteen East Bay Jewish organizations working together to educate community members about their ability to secure the future through legacy giving.

So far, Create a Jewish Legacy has secured an estimated $42 million in future gifts — which will create permanent sources of funding for program partners.
