

Temple Sinai Legacy Circle

Donor Profile

We are: Three generations of Morrisons: Barbara and Bob; Linsey and Brett, Rachel, Joshua and Anya.

We joined Temple Sinai in: 1976 (Barbara and Bob), 2005 (Linsey and Brett).

Our favorite Temple Sinai moment is:

Other than personal family simchas, those times when our congregants came together to help other congregants in need, whether they knew them or not.

We want our legacy to be: L'dor v'dor, from generation to generation. It is most gratifying that our children are carrying on our tradition of volunteering for Temple Sinai.

We made a legacy gift because: synagogue life has always been important to us. The best way to perpetuate Judaism is through community: learning and praying together, and being there to support one another in happy as well as sad times.

Temple Sinai is: a community of people, which we are very proud to be a part of.

What Will Your Legacy Be?

What does community mean to you? In the coming year we would like to publish your reflections on community. Please direct questions and submissions to Lisa Hanauer, lisa@oaklandsinai.org
